

Building bridges between entrepreneurial ideas and their accomplishment

AOFI is the export credit agency of the Republic of Serbia with the mission to support export of Serbian companies through insurance and financing. By insuring export transactions against political and commercial risks, extending loans, issuing guarantees and providing business advice, AOFI builds bridges between entrepreneurial ideas and their accomplishment with the objective of enhancing the competitiveness of Serbian exports.

Last year, despite the global recession, AOFI managed to improve its market position and increase the volume of its activities. The demand for our products continues to increase. Problems with liquidity were evident on all markets and companies accepted insurance as additional cost of doing business. By insuring its operations against commercial and noncommercial risk, Serbian exporters lowered their risk exposure.

By organizing workshops, and attending conferences and other export gatherings, in cooperation with government and significant foreign institutions, AOFI opens discussions and encourages interest in those fields that are significant for further development of the Republic of Serbia. Business results achieved prove that AOFI is worthy of confidence, and we are obliged and encouraged to continue improving our services, to further strengthen our social responsibility and to persist in upgrading the support provided for the sustainable economic growth.
